We Make Factories Run Better

In 1985, thirty-two passionate people set out to form an independent company that would fill a gap needed in the services industry. With strategically diversified services and a rapidly expanding workforce, Advanced Technology Services has grown to be a multi-million dollar, global company. Today, we work with some of the top manufacturing brands to make their factories run better.

It Starts with World-Class Safety

That’s why it is the number one tenet of our cultural commitments. It serves as the foundation that we build from. And as a continuous improvement company, we are committed to achieving an injury-free workplace through our ‘Live Safety 24/7’ culture – prioritizing the importance of a safe environment for our employees and customers.
