Is Certification the Answer to Closing Manufacturing Industry Skills Gaps?

Industry experts explain why manufacturing is experiencing a job surplus, but a skill deficit and give insight into the benefits of hiring talent with certification.

“Multi-skilled maintenance technicians are especially in demand these days because manufacturers have invested in engineers and financial personnel and have now had to recalibrate their thought process concerning the need for maintenance,” says Chris Hobbs, Reliability Solutions Manager at ATS.

Hobbs talks to HRDive about how better education can change the stigma surrounding maintenance technician jobs and lay the groundwork to sustainably help the unskilled workforce.
